Two More Lives Saved!!!

Rescue 7 is happy to report that two more lives were saved with the SAM-PAD, one in Kenora, Ontario and the other in Fort McMurray, Alberta. Both saves are credited with the use of effective First Aid and training.

E-Learning Standard First Aid

In the new year, we are proud to announce that we will be setting the bar for a new provincial standard with the implementation of Ontario's first E-Learning Standard First Aid course. No more two day courses, participants will benefit from the freedom afforded by the online training that prepares them for the five hour requisite in-class practicum.

CPR Training Helps

I had a scary CPR situation during a large consumer show that I manage. During move-out on Sunday evening, an exhibitor collapsed and lost consciousness. We have a first aid responder on site for all hours we are in the building, so he responded immediately. The man was vital signs absent. They used the AED to give him one shock, and then had to give about 8 minutes of CPR before EMS arrived. It's a big property so we all fanned out to the various roadway entrances to escort EMS to the scene. It was pretty awful, in the parking lot, in the rain with his wife looking on. Amazingly, they revived him and took him to hospital with a weak pulse and assisted breathing. They put him in an induced coma for 36 hours or so to see about brain damage/swelling, but as they warmed him up today he actually rallied and is showing improvement.

Wow. It was an awful thing seeing a body on the ground...But all the scenarios we run in your courses and our pre-event emergency response plans came together. The good news is that we saved a man's life by having the right people with us. And strangely as I watched it unfold I felt that my training gave me the skills to jump in if I was called up. No panic response, just ready to do what needs to be done.

I wanted to let you know that canfitpro's CPR course has made a difference in both ends of my professional life - both fitness and event management.
